About Light Up The World:

We are a Canadian non-profit organization and registered charity focused in the principle that access to energy changes lives. LUTW's mandate is to provide families living off-the-grid with affordable, healthy, efficient, and environmentally responsible electricity to light and power basic devices in their homes. Since inception, LUTW has worked with over 220 partner organizations to bring solar power to communities in 54 countries, reaching more than 1.5 million people. Systems that LUTW has installed are providing energy systems for light, communications, health clinics and schools. LUTW has strategic partnerships with businesses and post-secondary institutions to both engage the local community and to get the support they need to provide clean electricity to off-grid communities in need.
